BRING YOUR FLUTE!

Etude of the Week LIVE! *with Katy Wherry

Celebrating Katherine Hoover

Created and facilitated by Katy Wherry, Etude of the Week is an online flute community with over 5,800 members who share weekly etudes and provide constructive feedback for each other. EotW provides a safe space for flutists of all ages and abilities to share with one another and focuses on artistic growth and support. Etude of the Week LIVE! gives members of the community a chance to perform for each other in person and receive live feedback. It is a great opportunity for members to meet each other in person, strengthen connections, and have the opportunity to perform for each other.

The 2020 Mid Atlantic Flute Convention is celebrating women and tribute to the legacy of legendary flutist and composer, Katherine Hoover. Etude of the Week LIVE! celebrates by featuring selections from Katherine Hoovers Etudes for Flute (2011). BRING YOUR FLUTE! Perform or sightread along with us!

Tongued-Tied: An Articulation Workshop with Dustin White

This workshop will include an overview of articulation, including single, double, and triple tonguing, as well as exercises and practice techniques for improving single, double, and triple tonguing. This will include a discussion of the relevant anatomy. Materials include handouts with important points and references from the discussion. This workshop is meant to be interactive. BRING YOUR FLUTES!
